

Examples of Relationship Compatibility Questions

- You're at work and you realize you left your planner at home. Do you go on with your day figuring if you forget something someone will let you know or do you dwell on it and let it ruin your day?
- You have made special plans you can't cancel for the weekend but the forecast says it's going to rain, do you make the best of it or do you complain about it the whole weekend?
- What is your idea of a long-term relationship?
- What is a healthy relationship?
- When arguing, do you yell or do you sit down and calmly talk about what is bothering you?
- What do you see yourself doing in five years?
- If deserted on an island, what three things would you want and why would you choose them?
- You've worked 10 hours and your boyfriend or girlfriend calls wanting to meet up with you. Do you meet with him or her or do you say you just want to go home and schedule another time?
- Your sexual passion hasn't been as high as it was in the beginning of your relationship, do you talk about it, deal with it or make changes to increase the romance?
- If you had a whole week to do things with your partner, what would you do?
- You and your boyfriend or girlfriend are going to watch a movie, what three types of movies would you choose?
- What is your religion?
- How committed are you to your religion?
- Would you rather stay home and have an intimate dinner or go out to a fancy restaurant?
- A group of friends want to do something you have wanted to do for a while but you made plans with your boyfriend or girlfriend, do you go, invite your partner, or tell your friends you can't go?
- When you go to a party, you talk to everyone that stands two feet away from you or you keep to yourself?
- Do you enjoy being by yourself or being around people, most of the time?
- Did you base your answers to the above questions on what you think your partner would answer?