

Shhhhhh

Read the story. Pay attention to the “sh” sound. Hold your finger to your lips and whisper “sh” every time you see the “sh” blend.

Shelly likes to collect pretty shells. She likes the shiny ones the best. Every night she will rush to her collection to pick her favorite shells to sleep with her. Shelly reads them stories about fish and sheep and other animals. She sings songs about ships and shadows and her favorite shoes until her mother says, “Shhh! It is time for some shut eye.” Then Shelly falls fast asleep and dreams about shooting stars and shady trees. Every morning after breakfast, Shelly goes down to the beach to look for more shells to add to her collection and to keep her company at night.
