Safety Contract

Staying safe online means being smart. Never give away personal information like where you live, your real name, or phone number to anyone you do not know. Also, make sure you limit the amount of time you spend online – hang out with your ‘irl’ friends more than you do online.

- I will not give away my personal information online to strangers, including my address, phone number, or real name.
- I will limit the amount of time I spend online to __________________________ per day.

My guidance counselor’s name is: ____________________________.

I can find him/her at: ____________________________.

My guidance counselor is a resource, and I can go to see him/her if I’m feeling upset, need help with a situation, or see something that I need to tell an adult about.

If I see someone being picked on or being bullied, it’s my responsibility to let an adult know. I will not watch fighting, bullying, or hazing. I will tell an adult if I hear about something that’s going to happen on campus, because safety is everyone’s responsibility.
